Dear Partners,

As of June 01, 2017, Atlasglobal Airlines will apply the sequential coupon usage on its international flights. Sequential coupon usage will be applied for tickets consisting of only international flights. Tickets comprising only domestic and/or Cyprus (Ercan) flights will be considered outside of this practice.

Following rules will apply with the beginning/commencement of this application:

- Restrictions will apply for open ticket procedures (issuing a ticket and changing the ticket into open ticket)
- Passenger will only be accepted on the flight according to the same flight sequence as on the ticket
- In case a passenger fails to use a flight of a ticket, the passenger will be considered as No-show on the respective flight and no-show rules will apply consequently
- If a flight is not flown on a ticket, the Airline has the right to cancel the consequent flights of the ticket (IATA Rules Recommended Practice 1724 Coupon Sequence, clause 3.3.)
- If a round-trip ticket was issued but the passenger flew only one-way, then the return sectors which were not used should not be cancelled
- In case a round-trip ticket is issued instead of a high fare one-way ticket and if the remaining return coupon is refunded; this will also be considered as incomplete usage
- ADM will be raised for cases where a passenger intends to travel one-way but a round-trip ticket is issued and partial refund is collected afterwards
